SECRETARY M'ADOO'S APPEAL

Washington, Oct. 17.—Subscriptions reported and estimated up to noon Thursday amount to four billion dollars, leaving at least two billion dollars to complete the Fourth Liberty Loan. Only two days are left within which to raise this vast sum. No country on earth but America could raise so vast a sum in so short a time.

America can do it and must do it. The destinies of the world and the hopes of civilization are centered upon America. We shall fail in everything we have fought for and hope to gain in this war if the Fourth Liberty Loan is defeated. Let every true American citizen today examine himself under the white light of patriotism and say whether or not he has done his utmost in this emergency.

The highest obligations of duty and patriotism command every true American to go immediately to his bank or to his Liberty Loan Committee and subscribe to the limit of his ability to the Fourth Liberty Bonds. Don't delay—don't wait to be urged. Be as quick to do your part in the Fourth Liberty Loan battle as our soldiers in France are quick to obey the orders to charge the enemy. Buy Liberty Bonds on the installment plan if you cannot buy them for cash. Every patriotic bank will help you.

If every patriotic citizen will do his duty today victory for the Fourth Liberty Loan is certain. The continued victories of our armies in Europe; the certain defeat of our enemies and the glorious triumph of the cause of Liberty depend upon what the American people do in the remaining two days of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign.

W. G. McADOO,
Secretary of Treasury.

LITERARY NOTES

The Yanks Are Coming.

"The Yanks Are Coming." Could one think of a more popular or up to the minute title for a novel?

William Haven McNutt certainly hit upon a winner and he has written a most interesting story of actual experiences in the National Army. It is a book well worth reading and having on the shelf. The author treats of facts and there are many human interest stories. His reference of the Jewish boy in uniform in his introduction shows up a popular belief before the war. "He had expected cruelty in the army and he had found kindness, he had looked for humiliation and he had found pride. He had learned that while he might lose his life on the battlefield he would not be driven to lose his self respect in the barracks or the parade ground."

The author tells of Pacifica and all the other interesting matters previous to our entering the war and service.

The book is of 270 pages from the pen of Page Co., Boston at all book stores.

Go Get 'Em!

When William A. Wellman decided to write a story of his adventures as a member of the Lafayette Flying Corps of France and named his book "Go Get 'Em!" he certainly told in a line the real feeling and part of aviators play. To get their man is the thrill and to receive from Mr. Wellman's pen the story of General Pershing's first advance complete in detail makes one of the most interesting stories yet written.

He knows how to tell his story and it is intensely fascinating. Sergeant Wellman pictures the horrible details of modern warfare in the air true to life and from what he actually saw and did.

The book also contains an introduction from the pen of Elliot Harlow Robinson. It is bound in cloth and is profusely illustrated and comes from the press of the well known Page Company, Boston. At all book stores at $1.50.

The Man Who Won.

There have been few novels written this past year that have not been tinged with a war romance and it is a relief to get one out of the ordinary. Leon D. Hirsch has produced one full of absorbing interest that has for its back ground a stirring story of political life, combined with a romance that is intensely interesting.

In compelling fashion the author tells how Edward Harrison, recognized political boss, who had long controlled the affairs of a prosperous city, was forced to admit that his unprincipled political methods must give way to clean government, an exponent of which he sees in his son.

Cleverly the author depicts Edward Harrison, the unscrupulous political boss; Jack Harrison, his son, who differs quite a bit from his father; Mrs. Harrison, the indefatigable social climber; and Alice Lane, a bright, lovable girl, and around these widely different characters Mr. Hirsch has written a vivid story of politics, ambition, love, hate and—best of all—of real life that grips the reader.

COLUMBUS DAY

Oct. 12th, 1918.

Written for The Herald
This is Columbus Day so I shall write A tribute bright
To him who found our land
Which is the best made by errations
Of hand
Whose mighty mountains tower high
Toward the blue and everlasting sky
His soldiers massed in millions sail
Away
To join their allies in the fray
And when successful they at last return
The torch of liberty will brighter burn
Columbus! America Awake
From sleep, the world you free shall make Columbus from the sky above, looks down
Watching you who renown
So let us celebrate this day
In honor of the man who sailed away
In three small ships; and let us give a toast
To whom America does owe the most.
He did not know when on that stormy sea
That he should be
The one to find a world
That freedom's flag unfurled
Alas! They sent him homeward, from chains
On that last cruise, I was all Columbus gained
For weary pilgrimage, and burning thirst
For truth life was for all his efforts curled
But now the mighty nations
Praise him in song and verse and grand orations
The world does thankful pay
A loving tribute each Columbus Day.

Naval Prisoner.

AN OLD RECIPE TO DARKEN HAIR

Sage Tea and Sulphur Turns Gray, Faded Hair Dark and Glossy.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients for about 60 cents. Everybody uses this preparation now, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy, and you look years younger. Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

FINAL EFFORTS TO MAKE CITY'S QUOTA

Still Lacks Nearly $200,000 and With But Two Days--Everybody Must Get Busy at Once

With but two more days left for the Fourth or Fighting Liberty Loan, everybody must take hold and do their level best to see that Portsmouth with its great war industries not only reaches its quota which is large, but goes well over the top, possibly to the million dollar mark.

There are no great industries who subscribe great sums in this city, neither are there any wealthy men who take large sums, such as $100,000 or more. Like in many of the cities of the state, so that the entire contributions must come from the men who subscribe in some cases "until it hurts". These are the people upon whom it is depended to make the loan a success in this city and they are doing their duty well.

It was estimated that in the vicinity of $200,000 is needed to fill out the quota by Saturday night and this can be done if everybody will only realize that the needs of the country are such that there can be no such word as failure. Remember the boys over there who are giving their all and don't think you are making a sacrifice if you have to go without some little luxury every week to make up your subscription. It is not only a good investment but it will be very handy to have a collection of Liberty Bond buttons to wear as decorations when you greet the boys when they come home with their service and wounded stripes. It will be your credential that while at home you have done the best you could to back them up. It is possible that these same boys when they come home, may ask to see your buttons. It will be well to have them. The total subscription in this city up to the 15th, which included the

DRINK HOT WATER IF YOU DESIRE A ROSY COMPLEXION

Says we can't help but look better and feel better after an inside bath.

To look one's best and feel one's best is to enjoy an inside bath each morning to flush from the system the previous day's waste, sour fermentations and poisonous toxins before it is absorbed into the blood. Just as coal, when it burns, leaves behind a certain amount of combustible material in the form of ashes, so the food and drink taken each day leave in the alimentary organs a certain amount of indigestible material, which if not eliminated, form toxins and poisons which are then sucked into the blood through the very ducts which are intended to suck in only nourishment to sustain the body.

If you want to see the glow of healthy bloom in your cheeks, to see your skin get clearer and clearer, you are told to drink every morning upon arising, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, which is a harmless means of washing the waste material and toxins from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, before putting more food into the stomach.

Men and women with sallow skins, liver spots, pimples or pallid complexion, are those who wake up with a coated tongue, bad taste, nasty breath, others who are bothered with headaches, bilious spells, acid stomach or constipation should begin this phosphate hot water drinking.

A quarter pound of limestone phosphate costs very little at the drug store, but is sufficient to demonstrate that just as soap and hot water cleanses, purifies and freshens the skin on the outside, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the inside organs.

LOAN DRIVE WILL CLOSE SATURDAY

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 17.—The Fourth Liberty Loan probably now exceeds $4,000,000,000, although the actual tabulations today were $3,607,597,350, the Treasury announced. The books of the Fourth loan will close on Saturday night and there will be no extension of time, said Secretary McAdoo tonight. New reasons why the Fourth loan should be oversubscribed were given by Mr. McAdoo that there were tremendous expenses regardless of the German peace offer.

Subscriptions reported today totaled $335,000,000 the largest day yet, but still below the quota set to insure the success of the loan. Nearly a third, $101,000,000, came from the New York district, and sent that district well up towards its quota of $1,500,000,000.

SENTENCED IN SUPERIOR COURT

Many of the prisoners indicted by the grand jury of the Superior court were arraigned before Chief Justice John Kivel on Thursday afternoon and some of the cases were disposed of. Others entered a plea of not guilty and were marked for trial by jury later in the term.

Frank Simons, the East Boston young man who made the bold robbery in the First National Bank last week when he grabbed $328 from Albert Junkins of York, and who was later arrested by the police and the money recovered, entered a plea of guilty. Judge Kivel asked his age and when he was informed it was only 17 years, he gave the boy the best talking to that has been heard in the court room for a long time. He pointed out his youth and the fact that this was the time to make a turn and go right in to try and make good. If he continued on his present course it would mean a criminal life with all of its consequences. It was his first offense and he said he was going to take the chance that he would make good, so he imposed a sentence of from three to five years in state prison, which he ordered suspended during his good behavior, but warned him that although out of the state this would hold over him and if he did not reform he would be forced to serve the sentence.

Henry Burg, a dishonorably discharged sailor, charged with larceny, got six months in jail and a suspended sentence of from three to five years in state prison.

George Porter of Exeter, statutory offense, paid a fine of $50 and costs. Annette Severance of Exeter on the same charge was continued for sentence.

Harry Bullard, charged with breaking and entering, and Michael Quirk for the same offense entered pleas of not guilty. Justice Dowling of Exeter on three charges of counterfeiting entered a plea of not guilty.

Michael J. Green, who was indicted in connection with the gang of sailors who broke up the house of the North End, entered a plea of not guilty and as there was lack of identification the indictment was not pressed and he was discharged.

The farmers are harvesting their apples and the crop is large and of good quality. Because the storage of apples in warehouses in Boston has been limited for New England, there is a tendency for the price of the fruit to go down.

WAR INDUSTRIES BOARD ORDERS CURTAILMENT OF NON-WAR CONSTRUCTION

Necessary Farm Building Only Exception.

TEACHING ENGLISH TO ALIENS

Public Safety Committee Working on Transportation Problem--New Hampshire to Supply Munition Workers.

New construction without a permit from the representative of the committee on non-war construction of the Public Safety committee is absolutely prohibited by a ruling of the War Industries board, except for necessary farm purposes. And the cost of farm construction must not exceed $1000, without a permit. Necessary repairs may be made not to cost more than $2500, but the local representatives have been instructed by the committee, headed by Clarence E. Carr of Andover and including Edward N. Pearson of Concord and Frank W. Sargent of Manchester, to discourage minor repairs which can well be postponed.

The term "Construction" as used by the War Industries board does not mean buildings alone; it applies to fences, highways, dams, bridges, in fact all kind of construction. This is a war measure and is designed to put a stop to all work which will not contribute toward winning the war, but which one the less utilizes labor, materials and capital urgently required for war purposes. The order became effective in New Hampshire Oct. 7 and since that time the sub-committee have been called in to pass upon a considerable number of cases reported by the local representatives and others.

Local representatives have been appointed in 220 towns, usually the chairman of the local public safety committee or somebody recommended by him. The local representative must be consulted by all persons having in mind any sort of construction.

Americanizing Aliens.

The influenza epidemic has had a tendency to delay the program of the sub-committee on Americanization of the Committee on Public Safety, owing to the compulsory closing of the schools and the orders prohibiting gatherings of more than ten persons, but General Frank B. Streeter of Concord, chairman of the committee and his assistants have been busy perfecting the organization. (Mrs. S. Brooks of Exeter, the executive secretary has been meeting educational officers in the State house annex at Concord, as well as traveling about the state to instruct the teachers in the modern and effective methods of teaching English to non-English speaking adults.

All superintendents and chairmen of school boards in the state have been invited to attend a meeting at the State house, Oct. 19, at which Miss Mary Muggan of Fall River, an expert in Americanization instruction, will be the principal speaker. Those who attend will be guests of General Streeter at a luncheon at The Eagle. The State Department of Public Instruction is co-operating heartily with the Public Safety sub-committee.

Call For Munition Workers.

New Hampshire is to be called upon to furnish a quota of workers for the munition plants, to make up for the loss in production caused by the explosion of the Glendale plant in South Amboy, N. J. State Director Esau K. Sawyer of the Federal Employment Service has been instructed to enroll workers and has set the machinery of his department in motion to supply the men. The method employed is similar to that in the drive for shipyard workers by the Public Service Reserve. Chairman John B. Jameson of the Public Safety committee is co-operating with Mr. Sawyer in the drive, having placed the entire organization in the state at the disposal of the employment service.

The Public Safety committee did yeoman service in the early efforts to stem the tide of influenza which swept through the state. Hundreds of calls came to the headquarters at Concord for assistance. Chairman Jameson doing little else for the first three or four days, except arrange to have doctors and nurses sent to the cities and towns hit the hardest. Ultimately the relief work was centered in the state board of health.

New Hampshire Casualties.

New Hampshire casualties in the war up to Oct. 5, as compiled by State Historian Richard W. Hubbard, total 499. Casualties for the week ending Oct. 5 were 41, three being killed in action, two dying of wounds, 26 of disease and one of accident. Three were severely wounded, three slightly wounded and one gassed. In the war 35 have been killed in action, 36 died from wounds, 36 of disease, one of gas and 18 of accidents; 149 have been wounded severely, 59 wounded slightly, 31 have been gassed, 25 missing in action and 10 were taken prisoner.

The Clouds Have Rolled Away.

The war situation has become clarified in the last few days and the people of the United States and the Allied countries are feeling better. The recent interchange of notes between the United States and Germany led many to jump to the conclusion that the war was practically ended, while others felt that President Wilson had taken a position which would be to the great disadvantage of the Allies and to the direct advantage of Germany. In some places there were celebrations of victory, while numerous political leaders feared the president had made a serious mistake in even hinting at an armistice under any conditions except unconditional surrender.

But the doubts and fears have been swept away and today there is no misapprehension in any quarter, not excluding Germany. It is distinctly understood that the United States and the Allied nations will be satisfied with nothing short of unconditional surrender and that the fighting is not to cease until such surrender is made.

The pressure is to be continued, as this paper has urged that it must be from the hour that the battle turned in favor of the Allies. Following the dispatch of the President's latest note to Germany this statement was issued from the White House: "The government will continue to send over 250,000 men with their supplies every month, and there will be no relaxation of any kind."

Those few words tell the story. There is to be "no relaxation of any kind" until the Germans lay down their arms, admit defeat and announce their readiness to take the consequences of their crime against civilization. It will be a hard pill for them to swallow, but it must be taken, and the sooner this is done the better will it be for them and the whole world.

And so pronounced good has come out of the recent interchanges, in spite of the confusion and misunderstandings which temporarily prevailed. There is no misunderstanding now in any part of the world. It is known that the war must and will go on until the Central Powers yield completely and unreservedly.

Just what Germany will have to do in addition to this before the Allied Powers will treat with her may be left for the future to disclose, but it is safe to assume that the Kaiser and his war lords will have to step down and out forever. After the outrages they have inflicted upon the world no self-respecting nation can be expected to deal with them. They must go and Germany will have to put in their place a government entitled to respect at home and abroad, a government that may be trusted to keep the peace.

Things are moving in the right direction. There is every reason for optimism on the part of the nations at war with Germany, but not the optimism that would lead to any cessation of effort. The pressure must be continued until it is no longer needed. And it will be.

Decided improvement in the grippe situation is noticeable in many places, including this city and vicinity, and it is generally believed that the worst is past. But the fight must be kept up until the disease is fully eradicated. There must be no assumption that the danger is over until the grievous epidemic is a matter of history.

Charles M. Schwab, head of the Emergency Fleet Corporation, proved himself a good auctioneer when he sold $52,000,000 worth of Liberty bonds in 52 minutes in New York. But it will have to be admitted that he had the right sort of goods to offer to the right sort of a crowd.

Under ordinary circumstances the cancellation of the projected visit of the Liberty Loan relic train to this city would have been a sore disappointment, but, conditions being as they were, there was no complaint. Health considerations are of the first importance now.

It is rough when soldiers in training in this country are fired upon from an airplane, as was the case at Camp Mills a few days ago. The result was numerous wounds and at least one fatality. Here is an opening for an investigation that investigates.

King George and Queen Mary of England recently received a party of American editors in London. But that's nothing. American editors have little trouble in getting in anywhere. If they can't get in any other way they bull in.

VERSES OF A PRISONER ARE MAKING A HIT

McColgan's Work for Liberty Loan a Feature at the Prison.

William McColgan, "poet laureate" of the Portsmouth naval prison, is working with his pen to spur fellow prisoners to subscribe their share of the $70,000 allotted in the campaign for the fourth Liberty loan. Inspired by an uncompromising hatred of the Hun, McColgan finds it easy to throw off verses with a rough-and-ready swing whose "punch" strikes right home.

His fame as a "hard-hitting" poet has spread all through the United States navy. The prison printing office has been kept busy turning out hundreds of copies of "The Hun—His Mark," his most striking production so far. The U. S. S. Seattle loaded up with imprints of it before leaving this port recently.

Verse "Carry On"
It is no wonder McColgan has won this great reputation among the jacks. There are no frills, no softly-turned phrases on his writings. They "carry on" with an aggressive vigor and a sincerity even the most capricious of easy-chair critics must admire. Here is the first stanza of the poem which has been posted everywhere in the shops at the Portsmouth navy yard and has circulated even among the United States warships in European waters:

"The Hun, his mark—I saw it first
In an open boat at sea,
Where a woman crouched in the frozen shrouds,
With a whimpering child on her knee;
And strong men bent to their task at the oars;
And their hearts were full of hate.
For a man lay dead at the woman's feet,
A man who had been her mate;
And the whimpering child clung at her breast.
(Dear God, how can such things be done?)
With the bleeding stumps of its tiny arms
Blown off by a German gun."

McColgan took his cue from the Liberty Loan poster depicting the crimson finger prints of the Hun. The first time he saw it on the walls of the naval prison, he took it down, went to his room and under the inspiration of the moment wrote his poem beside the bloody hand, and put the poster back where he found it. It was the talk of the prison at once, and is still running strong in favor.

Son of a well known attorney in Cincinnati, O., McColgan studied for three years at the Xavier college there. Then romance called him to the sea and for nearly a dozen years he sailed in many climes as fireman, cook, deckhand. He was in the zone as one of the crew of the Tulei Prince, a tramp steamer, the day the Belgian Prince was sunk by a German U-boat.

The ruthless murder of the crew by the submarine commander inspired him to write his famous poem, "The Passing of Zig Zag Burke," in which he shows the spirit of a Kipling.

Writing a Book
McColgan is now writing in prose the story of the destruction of the Belgian Prince. This book, with an edition of his collected poems, will be sold among the enlisted men of the naval service and the proceeds used to establish clubs in Boston and other cities for men restored to active duty after being confined in the naval prison here.

McColgan left a position paying $120 a month to join the naval reserve when this country went into the war. Last July he overstepped his leave, and is now serving a year for it.

Eager to refute the slanderous report that the men now in prison "worked their way" there to escape active service, McColgan declared today: "That slacker story is absolutely false. For many days the prisoners have been appealing to J. L. Comdr. Thomas Mott Osborne, in charge of the prison, for permission to petition the secretary of the navy for a chance to make good against the Huns."

"Why, if they could, every man would leave prison today as a fighting unit, on a ship sent right up to the navy yard docks, with our own hand and equipment, and sail direct for France. Isn't that good enough for Uncle Sam?"

Under ordinary circumstances the cancellation of the projected visit of the Liberty Loan relic train to this city would have been a sore disappointment, but, conditions being as they were, there was no complaint. Health considerations are of the first importance now.

It is rough when soldiers in training in this country are fired upon from an airplane, as was the case at Camp Mills a few days ago. The result was numerous wounds and at least one fatality. Here is an opening for an investigation that investigates.

Roderick Macdonald of Pine street and was born in this city Sept. 7, 1893. He attended the parochial school and later secured employment at the Morley Hutton Factory. He played with the base ball team in the Sunset League. The parents of the young man received a letter from him this week which stated he was well and had just arrived from an overseas trip.

When it comes to a question of happiness, Don't fool yourself. Who is the happiest among them? Who is happy in "Tax Payer" seem to be the product of a very fertile imagination and dispirited brain. He recommends himself happy with ten years, five years, a year, six months, taken out of his life and yet the face of his "statements" life? It isn't natural for any human show plainly that he does not know, being, who has known liberty, to be and if he is on the inside, we do not know if he is unwilling to make known his identity.

I have been ten months at this station side by side with these prisoners. In question, seeking their moral and spiritual uplift. Therefore am able, to some extent, to represent the actualities of their conditions.

I agree that a great number of them, perhaps the majority, should be in the army, or in the service.

I agree that a great number of them are skilled workmen and their services are needed much for their country. I too think it is a travesty on patriotism and humanity to be continually pouring these thorough good specimens of humanity into prison and holding them here during war, at a tremendous expense. There are enough of them to man three ships or to complete continental regiment. It does seem, upon the face of it, that they might be used in that way.

On the other hand, the statement I hear to is: that they all should be labeled "draft dodgers and slackers." Mr. Tax Payer says the place is "kept open for draft dodgers and slackers."

As a matter of fact, everyone knows that these men to the last man volunteered for service, all of them are men of the service and many of them with considerable experience. How can they be classed as "draft dodgers?"

It cannot be a successful contradiction that every one of these men volunteered their services with the fullest intentions of serving their country well. I am confident that seventy-five per cent of them are now ready at any call, were they permitted, to go into the trenches, and I dare say, the spirit, daring to take a chance" which in many cases has brought down upon their heads their present misfortune will in the trenches also manifest itself and send them over the top with the same victory the "Yanks" have had before. There may be some slackers here but they are not all "slackers" besides I would like to remind Mr. Patriotic Tax Payer that as there are various causes of sickness so there are various reasons for imprisonment in the Navy, and the unfortunate of either may be equally helpless. Their present interest in the Fourth Liberty Loan, subscribing nearly $1000,000.00 is enough to put some of our tax payers to shame, and who he would brand them slackers and draft dodgers is either ignorant or hostile.

The most of these fellows want and are anxious to go to duty and the purpose of Commander Osborne's program is to qualify everyone possible for such duty and make it possible for such action to be taken by the Department.

MR. MARTIN ADDRESSES SHIPYARD MEN

Hon. Nathaniel E. Martin talked to the employees of the local shipyards today on the Liberty Loan. He spoke of New Hampshire's duty and predicted that every man in the state would back our great leader President Wilson, and would put the state over the top. He was given an ovation at the close.

McColgan, the naval prison poet, who first sent The Herald his poem, "The Hun—His Mark," has come into fame. A Boston paper copied the poem and ran it as an editorial. On Thursday the Traveller devoted a column to it.

The grippe epidemic is gradually subsiding.

CONSIDERING PRESIDENT'S NOTE

(By Associated Press)
Berlin, Oct. 18.—President Wilson's reply to the German note has created a new state of affairs in diplomatic discussions relative to peace. It is reported here from German sources, and the German reply, it is said, makes it clearly understood that the topic employed by the President was open to objection. The presence of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg in Berlin is believed to foreshadow the drafting of the German reply.

HAS TAKEN THE MATTER UP WITH SECY OF STATE

One of the local residents who has a fine knowledge of the state and who was held up on the Portsmouth bridge last summer with several others by inspectors who collected zone fees, has been quite anxious not hearing anything from any department in Maine since the inspectors a few days ago took the matter up with Frank W. Hall, secretary of state.

The secretary claiming no knowledge of the inspectors being ordered to the bridge by his department and of any collections made from automobiles with New Hampshire license plates.

At the time the inspectors were working on the bridge they kept a record of New Hampshire machines crossing into Maine and those who made a daily practice of it were finally held up and required to produce the necessary zone license fee. Quite a few were called upon to remit $2.00 and they claim that is the last they heard from the matter.

The secretary of the state has demanded all facts connected with the affair and descriptions of the men and dates when collections were made. The men may have been working under the Attorney General, of the state and the matter has been referred to his office for investigation.

In the meantime the several owners will await and try and find out where they are at on the zone license fee.

THE HERALD HEARS

That several men are getting a supply of fuel for the winter in plucking up driftwood in the river and harbor. That driftwood is being sold in Maine for $6 and $8 per cord and those who pick it up are making a good bit of money.

That several new traveling cranes have been ordered to the building ways at the Atlantic shipyard.

That the Boston and Maine employees at Portsmouth were paid today. That only a few of the old faces can be seen on the Portsmouth Electric street railway.

That Oscar Johnson, one of the oldest barbers in point of service in this city has given up the business.

That he has been handling the razor for 35 years.

That 30 years of this time he has stood at the chair in one place at 22 Water street.

That the big vegetables in the Braddon window on Market street certainly catches the eyes.

That the men employed in the passenger and freight train service for the Boston and Maine at Portsmouth have subscribed $7,500 toward the Liberty Loan.

That this subscription does not include everybody but the trainmen.

That the foot ball aggregation who practiced each evening back of Haven Park on Jenkins avenue mix the game up with some growling.

That there is nothing in the famous gridiron game that these juvenils do not know.

That if they ever get their growth and get in the professional ranks, they will start something on the field.

That their line of signals and, incidentally, a little scrapping adds plenty of pep to the game.

That Portsmouth appears not have been side-tracked on the war relief train.

That the grass cut the first part of the summer in the cemetery on Maple wood avenue was gathered up only a few days ago.

That if it had remained there a little longer the owner would need a few picks to help remove it.

That some of the female operators at the navy yard are talking of going overseas as canteen girls.

That the others are wondering if it is canteen work or something else is the attraction in France.

Exeter completed the raising of its Fourth Liberty loan quota on Wednesday. It is $216,000.

Other towns in the Herald territory that have achieved the loan goal are Hampton, Hampton Falls, Greenland, Newmarket and New Castle. Eighteen of the 37 towns in Rockingham county were in the honor column on Wednesday night.

At that time 111 cities and towns had filled their quotas, and reports from all parts of the state indicated that nearly if not quite 100 more would do so.

Somersworth went over Wednesday and is the third city in the state to arrive.

NOT A PARTICLE OF DANDRUFF OR A FALLING HAIR

Save your hair! Double its beauty in just a few moments.

"Danderine" makes your hair thick, glossy, wavy and beautiful.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully "draw" it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance; an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter for a few cents and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.

THREE DEATHS FROM EPIDEMIC AT HOSPITAL

With only three deaths on Thursday from the epidemic there was a general brightening of conditions about the city, but with an increased number of cases being reported from the surrounding towns. Things are far from normal, however, and it was the general expression about the city that the Public Health Service were acting wisely in keeping the quarantine on for at least one more week. Better to be safe than suffer a recurrence of this disease which has made the death rate in four weeks the greatest in the history of the city.

There are now cases breaking out in families where it was thought to be cleared up, and the Red Cross diet kitchen had six such cases on Thursday. It was thought the first of the week that the Red Cross could discontinue the kitchen at the end of this week, but with fifty-eight families on Thursday, three of them new, and six old cases discharged and returned, it is evident that it will have to be continued for the greater part of another week. The Red Cross will maintain the kitchen just as long as there is a need for it, and the faithful corps of women who have done such wonderful work are perfectly willing to give their services as long as there is need of it. The donations have been generous and there is now sufficient milked milk and cocoa on hand, but there is always a great need of eggs, baked custards and home made bread and rolls.

IF KIDNEYS AND BLADDER BOTHER

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, stinging sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes sometimes with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes very painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which they act normally again.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia-water drink, which quickly relieves bladder trouble.

HOW THE GERMANS WORK IN FRANCE

Paris, Oct. 16.—America's idealistic past attainments and America's definite promises for the successful prosecution of the war are being presented to the French people in a trenchant, convincing manner through the medium of pamphlets prepared by the Educational Bureau of the American Y. M. C. A.

Through the co-operation of the Department of Public Instruction of France, it has been possible to distribute 120,000 of these pamphlets in the schools. A large percentage of the literature so distributed has been taken directly in to the homes and a tremendous influence for good is thus being exerted.

The Y. M. C. A. became convinced some time ago that a general distribution of concrete information regarding things and aims American would be greatly appreciated not only by the French people, but would also do much to promote confidence and understanding between the two nations.

The French are always eager to hear about the United States and never tire of asking questions about their great ally country. Much information of this kind had been spread by individuals but, unfortunately, all of the Americans in France have not a clear and accurate conception of their own national ideals nor even a very wide variety of exact information regarding their own land.

Consequently it was decided that pamphlets giving much information in a small compass would serve an excellent purpose. Three of these pamphlets were prepared.

Emphasized Idealism
One, for the higher grades in the schools or for the colleges, is by Dr. John E. H. Johnson, formerly of Columbia University, head of the Y. M. C. A. educational department. Its title is: "The Ideals for which America Stands." It deals mainly with the causes that impelled the United States to enter the war. The point that America is fighting for world liberty and not for any selfish ends is emphasized.

The second folder, "The Help Brought by America to the Allies," is by Carl Holliday, professor of American Literature at the University of Toledo, and a member of the educational department of the Y. M. C. A. Prof. Holliday gives facts and figures to show how much the United States has done to help the Allies both since she herself entered the war and before that time. The pamphlet outlines the program that the American government has pledged itself to carry out in the way of furnishing men and food to carry on the war to victory. This folder is for the middle grades in the schools.

P. A. F. Appelboom, of the faculty of the University of Kansas, another member of the Red Triangle educational department, is the author of the third pamphlet, written in simple language for the pupils of the primary grades. Mr. Appelboom presents material similar to that used by his conferees.

All three of the little folders have the merit of being plain, readily understood statements of facts. No effort is made to launch into lofty literary flights. The writers have tried to give definite information and trust to the readers to form the proper conclusions therefrom.

Refutes Foo Propaganda
Beyond question this literature will have a beneficial effect in offsetting enemy propaganda, which in France had been taking the form of suggesting to the French people that America was merely a vocal and not a practical ally. No one could read the information put forth by the three pamphlets without knowing that the United States has accomplished wonders in getting a huge army to France inside a year after her declaration of war and continuing meanwhile her service of food, munitions and credits to the Allies.

There was a list of ninety stockholders, but the ink in which they were written had faded so that it was impossible to read them.

Fried Scallops.
Dry scallops on a towel, then roll in Indian meal and fry in deep fat. Take out and drain off. Serve hot with slices of lemon. Did you ever try scallop stew? It is fine. Scallops stew is made same as oyster stew, thickened a little. This common mussel is also delicious cooked by either process.

OPENING NIGHT A SUCCESS

Nearly 50 enlisted men were served supper Thursday evening from the cafeteria at the new Army and Navy Club on Court street. A good number remained during the evening and games and music were enjoyed. The soldier and sailor lads were enthusiastic over the place and showed their appreciation for the efforts of the War Camp Community service in their behalf.

At present no special programs will be arranged for entertainment, but later after the health conditions are better plans will be arranged to have some especially pleasant occasions there for the men in the service.

Mrs. Marion Towle is acting in general charge of the place, assisted by Miss Frances E. Brooks.

Bonds for Guns to lick the Huns

"As the Germans marched down the walk, two abreast, a little baby girl toddled out in front of them. A soldier stuck his bayonet through its stomach, and hoisted it, screaming, over his shoulder."

This is a part of a Government report on Belgian atrocities. Perhaps you have a two-year-old girl baby in your home, are you willing these things should happen or will you take the offensive and buy bonds?

Would we not die for them—
Our fighting men in France?

Then let us buy for them—all the bonds we can—with the same great unselfishness with which they fight and die. This is the spirit with which they and we—fighting, working, saving together—will as God sees us, inevitably WIN!

"Our limit is all that we can."

The Herald is proud of its young men who have made good after their training for general newspaper work. Every one of The Herald boys have made good and one of the latest advancements has come to Frank Herbert Meloon, new managing editor of the Boston Evening Record.

His big newspaper work at the age of 14, as county correspondent for the Keene (N. H.) Sentinel and later became city editor and then editorial writer on the Portsmouth Chronicle-Herald and Gazette.

He took the position of assistant business manager of the Augusta (Me.) Farmer Publishing Company about twelve years ago, and later was

If Ye Break Faith With Us Who Die

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.
We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie
In Flanders fields.
Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be your to hold it high,
If ye break faith with us who die,
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.
LIEUT.-COL. JOHN MCRAE
(Died in Service)

Can you, can anyone, read these lines and not lend, to the last dollar if necessary, to the end that the thundering guns belching shot and shell that take the lives of such as he who from the frightful field of carnage sent this solemn but inspiring message to us all, shall be silenced forever. If you haven't already, lend today, at the nearest bank.
